The reason I say ok is because this game does what I consider cheating. It will give you balls that you can use and do it several times in a row. Then later, he does it again. That's not fair. You shouldn't be throwing moves because of this. I find this cheating and I deleted a lot of games because of it. Come on, these games should be fun not frustrating. So far, I've beaten every level, but that's only because have played many of these kinds of games. For someone who doesn't, well..... In addition to cheating, this is a great game.
